"THE ANGLE LAMP"

THE LIGHT
THAT NEVER FAILS.

It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the islands people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (cost is no object to some people) but, beside being infinitely cheaper, it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a revelation to every one who sees it, and simply demonstrates that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble. It is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and is the idea light from every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.00 up.

MR. EMMELUTH CALLS FOR JOINT COMMITTEE

Senate Has a Smile Over the Rules
But Moves Ahead—Short Afternoon
Sessions in Both Houses.

There was nothing done in the Senate yesterday afternoon but the consideration of the rules and the members showed a disposition to get through with them as soon as possible. Such despatch was shown that by 2 o'clock the eighty-seventh rule had been reached, thus leaving about fifteen more to the end. At this point, the motion to adjourn was made and carried, the Independents wishing to go into caucus on some important matters.

Quite a little fun was occasioned in the Senate by an amendment offered by Mr. White which, if adopted, would have allowed the President to walk about on the floor of the House or do anything else while putting motions Mr. Achi (Rep.), arose and seconded the motion and the Republicans and two Independents voted for the amendment. Mr. White saw his mistake and then moved to reconsider. The Republicans voted against this and the President announced that the noon had it. However, a division was called for and it was then found that the Independents were unanimous for reconsideration. Mr. White withdrew his amendment.

There were several spirited little tilts over small amendments proposed but these did not last long and the rules went along flying.

The House was called to order at 1:30 o'clock for the afternoon's session with a bare majority of the members in their seats.

The session was a short but interesting one, and the manner in which bunches of rules were rushed through was an agreeable relief from the slow methods adopted at previous sessions.

Emmeluth made a motion to suspend the rules in order that he might introduce a joint resolution. Carried. The resolution was as follows:

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives, First, that a committee be appointed, three members to be appointed by the Speaker, to join with such committee as may be appointed by the Senate, to investigate the Tax Laws of this Territory and ascertain the manner in which the same have been actually applied, and the results thereunder. Second, That said committee report such defects as they may find in said laws, or in the method of administering the same, together with such recommendations for immediate legislation as will secure for this Territory a just and wise system of assessment and taxation.

Third, That said committee be and is hereby authorized and empowered to retain counsel and to send for persons and papers, and to administer the usual oath to persons testifying before it; and they are hereby directed and required to report the result of their investigations within thirty days after their appointment." It was moved and seconded that the Emmeluth resolution be adopted.

The House adjourned shortly after 2 o'clock.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—As I see by your issue of today, that the Board of Health is discussing the advisability of refusing an entry to consumptives, to our shores, on the plea of the infectiousness of the disease, I beg leave to state my personal experience as to said infectiousness.

I arrived in Honolulu some twenty odd years ago with a husband who had then been sick from pulmonary causes about six years. The disease was not hereditary but came through climatic influence. However, he succumbed to it after two years from his arrival here. I occupied the same bed in a small room with him, to within six nights of his death, viz., during all the time of the heavy night sweats, contrary to the advice of our physician, who is now alive and in this city. That is now eighteen years ago. Since then I have attended other consumptives as a friend, till their deaths, and have never contracted the disease but am strong and healthy. Some may object to this, saying, "you might do this whilst others could not do so, with impunity." To this I answer, I was peculiarly susceptible to the disease having been declared by able physicians to be suffering from chronic bronchitis, to such a degree as to be pronounced incurable.

I trust that our Board of Health will not pass such an inhuman and in my idea unnecessary law as the above mentioned one, but in the interests of suffering humanity I implore others who have had similar experience to myself, to now come forward and make them known to the public, and our lawmakers. For as the old saying goes, "One fact is worth a thousand arguments," and we none of us know when our turn may arrive to be hunted from here, and driven from there, and not even to be left to die in peace.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—I would ask Dr. E. S. Chapman who is here for self with his see-sawing old mouldy worn-out theory of prohibition, the following simple question. How can a person claim to be a Christian and at the same time advocate prohibition, when God is on record in opposition to prohibition. I will again ask the would be saloon smasher and the man who would create a hell in the happy homes of many good women, by leading them into the hellish ring of politics as they exist today in making them voters, if he is acquainted with any of the following pulpit pounders quoted from the San Francisco News Letter some two years or so ago. Here it is, Mr. Chapman! "There is Brother Brown of San Francisco, up for adultery, and Brother Colburn also, of San Francisco, arrested for a crime that is unspeakable, a parson in jail at Oakland for stealing a stereopticon, and the parson in jail at San Jose for stealing a girl, and the parson in jail at Stockton for swindling a rancher, and the parson in Portland who robbed a bank." Can Mr. Chapman find any such notorious rascals among saloon keepers? Nary time. Here is my honest opinion of Parson Chapman. He preached of the suffering that's found in the slums.
